

Third Sector Keysafe, Adaptations & Handyperson Services – April 2020

This short directory provides information about third sector services, which can help with keysafe, adaptations and handyperson services during the Covid-19 crisis.

These may change from time to time and depend on staff and volunteers, and may not be able to respond to all requests for support. All of them are following the recommendations on social distancing.

Further updates will be provided as and when Cardiff Third Sector Council become aware of services. Directories for other specific services are also available from the C3SC website.

C3SC is the County Voluntary Council (CVC) for Cardiff – the umbrella infrastructure organisation for the third sector in the City. C3SC's key role is to provide specialist advice, support, and information to local third sector organisations on issues that affect them - including volunteering, funding and governance - and to be a conduit for policy information. We support networks around key themes and areas of interest, with the aim of ensuring that policy and decision makers can connect with and understand the needs of third sector groups and organisations in Cardiff.

Please note the information is based on information provided to C3SC; no additional checks or verification has taken place in producing this directory. Information is up to date at the time of publishing. Groups are aware details of their services and the support they provide will be shared; we have respected where groups have asked us not to share their contact details at this time.
